Dear Congressional Leaders:

We, the undersigned United Ways, request that Congress maintain the current charitable giving tax incentives for all donors so that we can continue to serve those who rely on our help. Recently, limitations on the charitable tax deduction have been proposed as a government revenue source to reduce the federal deficit or to pay for jobs' stimulus legislation. While we applaud your desire to meet our immediate unemployment crisis and to address our long-term fiscal challenges, we urge you to consider the negative ramifications of a tax policy change on those at the bottom of the economic spectrum.

In many ways, because of the charitable nature of Americans, the non-profit sector has weathered the recession better than both the business sector and the government sector. Nonetheless, donations to charities have dropped, while the demand for the services we fund and provide has increased exponentially. We are committed to doing everything possible to help our societies' most vulnerable make it through the recession. As the federal, state and local governments cut funding for social service programs, it is critical that charities' capacity to help children, families and individuals not be diminished.

United Way is the largest non-government funder of human services in the United States. We are experts at understanding the conditions necessary to maximize charitable giving to those in need. We have front-line knowledge that a reduction in deductibility of donations will result in reduced donations to charities . . . at the worst possible moment. Even a small decrease in our donations caused by limitations on deductions would directly impact the people who receive the services provided by United Way and our partners. The bottom-line is that, as a result of a charitable deduction cap, hundreds of thousands of Americans who need our help the most may no longer receive the services we provide and fund.

While we understand the historic challenges facing Congress and support your efforts to meet those challenges, we do not believe that low-income individuals should bear the burden of both reduction of government services and reduced private charitable services. We urge you to fully preserve charitable giving incentives contained in the federal tax code.

Sincerely,

United Way Worldwide
Alexandria, VA
